THEN WHAT HAPPENS?

The psychological lift which the spend-lead measure was designed to give the country has been discounted in advance. Final passage of the bill, expected this week, will have no effect.

What effect the money, itself, will have is problematic. There's a general disposition to be bearish. It's impossible to forget that pump priming is not a cure, only a sedative.

Probably, there will be appreciable effects—good ones. Then what happens? What comes after pump priming?

If it's going to be anything but more pump priming—if government's going to withdraw from the field—private enterprise must be able to take up the slack. This cannot be brought about by mere exhortation.

Private enterprise is realistic. It can't spend money, as government can, to pursue a theory. It must work within the limits of the profit system. So far as is known, despite the apparent intention of some persons prominent in the new deal, abolition of the profit system is not part of the program.

If the system's not going to be chucked overboard, then it must be rehabilitated. It must be given a chance to work. The government must determine a line of action and follow it. Certainty must be restored. Until it is restored, uncertainty, which has made pump priming necessary, will continue to discourage private investment, the alternative to pump priming.

ON THE LOOSE

When mobsters throw eggs at a radical, as they did at Norman Thomas in Newark, N. J., or when strikers on a picket line throw coal at non-strikers, or when "patriots" start a riot in a Nazi meeting, don't imagine that such things are of no importance.

They mean political barbarism has captured the addleheads and is rushing them backward to the middle age—and beyond. The purpose of government is to keep the addleheads from going on the loose and hurting themselves and everybody else. When government fails, the crackpots and opium smokers get control. The rowdies and mobsters of one extreme are arrayed against the toughs and clodhoppers of the other extreme—and Heaven help the decent folk between the lines.

If policemen can't restore order, the stronger mob undertakes the responsibility, and that's dictatorship. When bands of men roam the streets using mob tactics to express their hate, freedom's no longer safe.

MAKE THE MOST OF IT

Mechanical details of naval defense are too tough for any but experts to tackle. Non-experts who noticed the United States and Great Britain are in a huddle over super-battleships and super-guns are entitled to one guess apiece, nevertheless, as to the effect of the news on Japan, third greatest naval power.

Huge guns capable of demolishing a city and huge ships capable of lugging the guns great distances are no more weapons of defense than the big bats which home run hitters lug to the plate to shake in the pitcher's face. They are weapons of offense, pure and simple.

So the Japanese, suspected of kidding when they talk about naval "defense," know they aren't the only kidders at large in the Pacific ocean. The United States and Great Britain have said to Japan, in effect: "If this be naval defense, then make the most of it." For that matter, that's what the two governments are telling their own taxpayers.

MORE PIRATES

The French are excited about "rebel" airplanes which have drifted northward from the Spanish war zone, into France, but not because they're Spanish airplanes.

There is such a thing as a Spanish airplane in Spain. Finding it, however, would be as difficult as finding a Frenchman in the French foreign legion. Most of the airplanes in Spain belong to some other nationality. They're in Spain to do a job for their owners. Their pilots are there for the same purpose.

In other words, these are pirate airplanes, companions to the notorious pirate submarines which made things tough for British shipping a year ago, until the British turned to realism. Perhaps the pressure is going to be put on France this summer to go realistic, too.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, June 9

Judging by the ruling force of certain mutual aspects for this day, there may be perplexing conditions where stratagem, intrigue or collusion may be effective in untangling menacing situations. Compromise and subtlety may succeed where direct action might fail.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of rather problematical conditions, with curious or undercover matters holding menace unless tact, diplomacy, vigilance and corresponding stratagem are exercised. Connivance and intrigue may be required for success and to avert rather vicious situations born of duplicity, enmity and jealousy.

A child born on this day may have a rather subtle and challenging nature, with strong leanings to gain its ends by strategy, collusion or similar methods. It may be shrewd, clever and probably captivating of personality.

LEGISLATURE CONCENTRATES ON RELIEF LOAN

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, June 8.—Leaders in the Ohio legislature hoped today to cope with the most pressing need of the state, a $1,500,000 loan before waiting to see if the federal government would pour several million dollars into Ohio for direct aid of the indigent.

Prospects for speedy enactment of a program to care for relief needs throughout the remainder of the year appeared to have been abandoned temporarily.

Instead, the house of representatives adopted a resolution asking congress to set aside $250,000,000 for direct relief, of which Ohio would receive $20,000,000. It must be approved next by the senate.

Would Relieve Legislature

Such action by congress would relieve the legislature of the tremendous problem of raising $13,000,000 to $17,000,000 estimated as needed to finance relief until the end of 1938.

Anticipating a delay to await congressional action, members of both houses concentrated on putting the $1,500,000 loan bill into shape. It would appropriate the amount in sales tax revenue for 1939 and then permit the local governments to issue notes in anticipation of their share.

Proponents encountered, however, the question of how the money should be distributed by the state emergency board and whether the present legislature, whose existence ends Dec. 31, could appropriate for next year.

The senate taxation-relief committee called in a representative of the attorney general for advice.

Fear Cleveland "Grab"

Some legislators expressed fear that Cleveland might grab most of the loan funds if distribution restrictions were not imposed. On the other hand, others said that if the money were distributed among the 11 most needy counties it would be of little benefit in any particular one.

The senate meanwhile approved and sent to the house its first major proposal for financing relief. It would empower local governments to issue poor relief bonds in anticipation of delinquent tax collections. Its author, Senator Keith Lawrence of Cleveland, estimated it would make $50,000,000 available.

The fate of the measure is uncertain in the house, where much opposition has developed.

Consideration of a bill estimated to make $8,500,000 available this year by mortgaging the future was begun by the senate taxation-relief committee.

Described by Chairman Harold Nichols of Clermont county as an "important measure," it would extend through 1940 the utility, admissions, malt and wort taxes now allocated to relief and permit the local governments to issue notes in anticipation of the 1939-40 revenue.

Senator Nichols proposed an amendment to levy a tax of 1.65 per cent on the gross revenue of publicly owned utilities, which he estimated would yield $500,000 a year. The tax would be the same as that now levied on private utilities for relief.

No Reduction Seen

The house demonstrated that there was not much chance of the legislature reducing the requirement of a 65 per cent favorable vote for authorizing war relief bonds and relief levees. It moved a 55 per cent vote requirement and substituted the 65 per cent in a federal aid bond bill and then passed the measure along to the senate.

Representative Louis Laderman, author of the measure, said it still would permit city councils to issue federal aid bonds without a vote of the people if their constitutional bonding limit had not been reached.

The house defeated the bill of Representative Al Kaib (D. Ottawa) to levy a tax of 50 cents a gallon on imported wines, a measure designed to aid northern Ohio grape growers. The vote was 78 no to 30 yes.

Budget Prepared

COLUMBUS, June 8.—The state board of vocational education prepared to send to Washington today a budget for special training of elementary and high school teachers during 1938-39 as follows: Vocational agriculture, $35,608; home economics, $33,773; trades and industries, $41,255. The federal government matches the state's budget.

BUFFALO, N. Y. — "We haven't lost a father yet." That's the proud boast of Children's hospital, which maintains a waiting room for the exclusive use of "expectant fathers."

THE GERM CARRIER

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland,
New York City.

HEALTH OF PUPILS

MORE THAN one million school children in the city of New York recently observed Health Day. A day was set aside for teachers to stress the importance of health. That was a valuable school day.

In addition to teaching the advantages of following sensible health rules, various tests were made. The pupils were examined for defects in vision, hearing, height, weight, posture, etc. In this manner many minor defects that would otherwise have been overlooked were detected. The parents of each child in need of attention were sent a report telling the need of medical and dental treatment.

This procedure, if generally used, is capable of curbing many ailments and defects of childhood. It will help improve the general welfare of our school children. Such a health day might well be set aside in every school. The defects of early childhood grow into disabilities which serve as stumbling blocks in later life.

Young children should be examined periodically. Definite efforts should be made to determine whether they are properly nourished and are obtaining sufficient sleep and relaxation. Personal hygiene and sanitation must be stressed.

In the larger schools, pupils who are found to suffer from permanent defects should be assigned to special classes. But surely, if possible, the defects should be corrected so that the child may make the normal progress in school. In any event, if a defect or disability is found, it should not be neglected.

All school authorities agree that many of the children who appear backward in their school work are usually those who suffer physical defects. It can be readily seen that if a child has poor vision or impaired hearing, it would be difficult for him to make the expected progress in his school work. Obviously the underweight and nervous child will be subject to many disorders which will cause frequent absence from school and failure to progress.

Prevention Best

For years the medical profession has stressed the importance of periodic health examinations which I have frequently mentioned. It is through the discoveries made in such examinations that certain chronic disorders can be prevented. These periodic visits to the doctor are highly recommended, not only for the school child but for the adult as well.

If you or your children have not recently consulted the doctor, now is the time to take inventory of the health of your family. Do not overlook the importance of this matter. It is far better to guard against disease rather than to await it and then attempt the cure.

LAKEVIEW, Tex. — A one-vote majority gave C. L. Masser the mayor's office in this newly incorporated community over his opponent, W. F. Guion. The vote was 20 to 19.

Historical Dispute Perturbs Texas;
Issue Involves Alamo Heroes' Bones

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Texas is wrapped in internecine problems involving its heroes.

Civil, military, church and state leaders are involved in a controversy that arose over a ceremony at the old Cathedral San Fernando here.

It all began several months ago when workmen renovating the cathedral altar floor unearthed a small pile of bone and fragments.

Recalling an account written by Capt. Juan Seguin, who commanded a company under Gen. Sam Houston at the Texas-liberating battle of San Jacinto, officials of the cathedral assumed they had ample proof that the bones found beneath the altar were those of Col. William B. Travis and the 180 heroes who died with him in the Massacre of the Alamo.

For Seguin had written how, returning from the Texas revolutionary battles three months after the bloody Alamo incident, he found the charred bones of the victims in piles where Gen. Santa Anna of Mexico had ordered all the bodies burned. Seguin wrote that he gathered up the bones and reinterred them beneath the altar of San Fernando.

Upon that authority, the officials of the church recently staged a formal ceremony of reburial, in which army and state authorities participated and paid tributes to Travis, David Crockett, Col. James Bowie and many others who met death from the Mexicans' lead and steel.

L. W. Kemp, chairman of the advisory board of historians of the Texas Centennial Commission of Control, took issue with the ceremonial leaders. He said he held a newspaper clipping describing another type of burial accorded the Alamo heroes, also under Seguin's directions.

Kemp, however, waived his objections to the ceremony but declared he was "positive the bones are not those of the Alamo heroes," and refused to participate.

When Kemp's commission planned to remove the bones of Moses Austin, father of Texas' founder, Stephen F. Austin, from Potosi, Mo., Missouri authorities objected and the proposal was temporarily abandoned.

Extra Hazard

TULSA—Comes now a former city jail prisoner to allege and state as follows, to wit:

The jail was too crowded, so he had to sleep on the floor. While he slept a black widow spider bit him.

The city commission should allow his claim of $1,000 for the bite.

Salem Firm Named In Damage Action

LISBON, June 8 — The Salem Sales Co. was named defendant in a $2570 damage suit filed Tuesday in common pleas court by Wilbur James Spalding of Salem, a minor, charging the company with responsibility for an accident in which he was injured.

The petition names Chester and F. D. Dornbush as heads of the company.

The accident, the petition asserts, occurred October 4, 1937, when Spalding, accompanied by his mother, went to the establishment to make a purchase. While looking at a catalog the plaintiff said he stepped backward into an opening, falling to the basement.

A fractured left arm and spine injuries are cited as causes for action. The suit was filed by James Spalding, the victim's father.

ALUMNI WILL RALLY FRIDAY

300 Are Expected At Annual Banquet At Masonic Temple

The quartet will be together for the first time since graduating from Wittenberg college at Springfield in 1937.

During eight years of musical and scholastic association at Salem High school and Wittenberg college, members of the quartet gained state-wide recognition for their talents. They appeared on concert, High school and college stages during their eight-year association and gained additional fame and praise on each appearance.

Since graduating from college, members of the group have been separated by their various fields of work. Two of the musicians, Holloway and King, have been teaching music in high schools, the former at Beaver Dam and the latter at Phillipsburg.

Lepper has been studying for his Master's degree in mathematics at Ohio State university, while McArter has studied music in France under the tutelage of Igor Stravinsky, noted composer, and several other outstanding musicians.

Another outstanding number on the program will be a vocal selection by John Paul Olloman, a member of the Salem High class of 1932 and a graduate of Grove City college. Olloman will be accompanied by Homer Taylor.

Rev. Eugene Charles Beach, D. D., pastor of the First Christian church of Youngstown and a past national president of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, will be the principal speaker. Rev. Beach received his theological degree at Northwestern university and was an All-Illinois football player while an undergraduate.

Rev. Fr. Herbert J. Cook, assistant pastor of the St. Paul's Catholic church, will deliver the invocation.

Be welcome to the class of 1938 will be given by Alumni President Dornbush. The responsive speech and presentation of the class gift will be made by Charles Wentz, president of the graduating class.

Council approved, unanimously, the equipment purchase, after Councilmen C. F. Zimmerman and A. P. Morris said they believed the equipment was something which the city had needed for some time. The supplies will not be purchased, however, until the necessary legislation has been formally passed by council.

Money in Fund

City Auditor Karl Webster is understood to have informed the engineer that money is in fund for the purchases.

A petition requesting the paving of S. Lundy ave., between Columbia and Franklin streets, was received and filed by council last night. The eight petitioners ask the paving by WPA workers on the basis of a $1 per foot front assessment.

Council promised Earl Day, who appeared in behalf of Maple st. residents, that their street could be paved on the $1 per foot basis.

Theater Attractions

Olympe Bradna and Gene Raymond in "Stolen Heaven," at the State Thursday only.

The State theater will present "Stolen Heaven" featuring Olympe Bradna and Gene Raymond as a new romantic team, Thursday only. "Stolen Heaven" is a tender story of two young lovers caught in the cross-currents of their past indiscretions. It tells the romantic tale of an enticing pair of jewel thieves, who, in their attempt to and Raymond refuge from their pursuers.

The youngsters succumb completely to the tender influence of the old musician, and with him make plans for his "comeback." But before they can bring their plans to completion they are joined by their former confederates, played by brittle Glenda Farrell and Porter Hall. Their friends convince them that they have merely "gone soft," and they finally agree to make their getaway on the very eve of the festival which is to mark Stone's return to the world of music.

But to Olympe their stay in the forest has meant something more than just a refuge, and she cannot leave the old man. As the curtain goes up on the great music festival, she makes it clear to Raymond that she regards their past life as a great mistake and that her place is beside the man who has befriended them.

Raymond must finally choose between their confederates, who are ready to make their getaway, and Olympe, who has found something real in life in the forest.

Operating on its summer schedule of shows four days each week, the Grand will offer a mystery film, "Mystery House," on Thursday. The picture is taken from the Mignon Eberhart novel which has Lance O'Leary, detective and Sarah Keate, nurse, as its central characters.

Anna Nagel, William Hopper, Hugh O'Connell and Sheila Bromley have supporting roles to Dick Powell and Ann Sheridan, the leads.

The present feature at the State, "There's Always a Woman," co-starring Melvyn Douglas and Joan Blondell, concludes tonight.

Blasting the hopes of Mullins Foremen for the second round championship of the Class A Softball league, Scott's Stogies, who until recently played under the name of the Salem Chinas, handed the Foremen a 6 to 4 defeat at Centennial park last evening.

Mullins had chalked up two victories and was tied for the lead in the second round race until last evening. By reason of their victory, the Stogies pulled into a tie for first place with the Ohio Edison.

Two runs in the fifth frame and two more in the sixth brought Scott's team the win after Mullins had held the lead, 4 to 2, at the end of the fourth frame.

The Foremen pushed over one run in the third inning and three in the fourth. Scott's scored once in the first frame and once in the fourth in addition to their winning markers in the fifth and sixth frames.

Kuntzman, May and Odom led the Stogies in hitting, each collecting two safe blows. The Stogies were allowed nine bingles by Pitcher Jim Fitzpatrick of Mullins. Pitcher Dale Ritchie of the Scott nine held Mullins to six hits.

In the other Class A game last evening, the Salem News posted its first victory of the second round and its third win of the season by defeating Demings, 7 to 3.

The Pumpmakers were held to two runs in the second frame and one in the seventh, while the Newsies were scoring once in the second inning, twice in the third, once in the fifth and three times in the sixth.

Ralph Gregg went the distance on the mound for the News, giving up nine hits. Pitcher McQuiston of Demings allowed 11 hits.

The Presbyterians and Methodists recorded their first victories of the second round in Class B games with the Presbyterians defeating the Baptists, 7 to 4, and the Methodists winning over the Emmanuel Lutherans, 10 to 9.

GOLFERS READY TO BLAST AWAY IN OPEN EVENT

Finest Pros In America Tee Off Tomorrow In National Open

DENVER, Colo., June 8.—America's finest professional golfers, plus a sprinkling of fairly solid contenders from the amateur ranks, fired final practice shots today in the warm-up for the 1938 National Open championship.

The big show gets underway tomorrow. On the basis of practice spins and form-charts, it shaped up as a wide open scramble, with the seasoned campaigners apparently holding no great advantages over a contingent of lesser lights from all sections of the country.

Pairways of the Cherry Hills course were a patchwork of divots which only bore mute testimony to the fact the par 33-36-71 layout is considerably tougher than it looks on the surface.

Its 6,825 yards spread out over narrow fairways, fringed by some ball-snaring water hazards, and terminating in postage-stamp-size greens.

Sub-par and even par performances for a full round have been lacking during the pre-tournament play. Striking illustrations were yesterday's practice rounds in cold and rainy weather. Only Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., had a par-equaling effort for 18 holes. It's the consensus of railbirds that 285 won't be broken for 72 holes.

However, most of the entrants obviously were not bearing down. Some played two balls on every shot. Others hit three or four shots from one spot.

The 68 produced by Sam Snead a few days ago remained as the best practice round so far. Since Allison, as well as Phil Smith, had had his troubles. He took an approximate 78 yesterday.

Adamick Seeking 44th K. O. Victory

CHICAGO, June 8.—Jimmy Adamick, the Midland, Mich., dynamiter hailed by Jack Kearns as "another Dempsey," said today he hoped to ring up his 44th knock-out in 54 fights when he faces Jack Trammell, the giant Youngstown, O., Negro, in Mills stadium tonight.

The 24-year-old Adamick, who knocked out Al Edison in Philadelphia in his last scrap, was expected to weigh about 190 pounds. Trammell, whose right hand has gained him a string of knock-outs, was expected to weigh 195.

Tempestuous Johnny Allen Again In Vitt's "Doghouse"

BOSTON, June 8.—A speed classic was in store for Boston baseball fans today as Bob Feller and Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove were sent to the mound, respectively, for the league leading Cleveland Indians and the Boston Red Sox.

The second game of the current Cleveland-Boston series, promised as much excitement as yesterday's first—in which the Tribe scored a 7-to-5 victory after fireball Johnny Allen left the game in a Huff.

Allen hurled one inning, then Joe Cronin protested to Umpire Bill McGowan that the temperamental hurler's right sleeve was ragged, distracting batters. McGowan ordered Allen to change sweat shirts. "Jawn" refused. Manager Oscar Vitt ordered the change. Again "Jawn" refused. Vitt then fined him $250 and sent him in another hurler.

Bill Zuber succeeded Allen, but was driven to the showers in the third. Johnny Humphries followed Zuber and held the Sox hitless for six and two-thirds innings. Although Allen was out $250 today, he wasn't the least convinced that four diamond-shaped holes in the elbow of his shirt constituted enough distraction to batters to justify McGowan's removal order.

PASTOR SENDS COAST HEAVIES INTO OBLIVION

"Scourge of East" Blasts Careers of Pacific White Hopes

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—There is a growing boxing movement among middle-class boxing managers to pay young Bob Pastor of New York a yearly retainer to keep away from the fertile green fields of the Pacific coast.

The little Polish heavyweight, who won notice overnight by sharing the same ring with Joe Louis for 10 rounds, is a big reason in himself for the Coast's most serious boxing depression in several years. Within 14 months he has whacked all the fresh paint off four main-eventers, at least two of whom were looked upon as comers.

Pastor has won more favor here than any non-titled heavyweight who invaded the section since Art Lasky. He has percolated with a decision notably lacking in most of his touring colleagues and never has failed to please the crowds. But among managers his effect has not been so pleasant; his progress has been too swift and too abrupt.

The New Yorker first startled the outer by unceremoniously drubbing Bob Nestell when that youngster was touted as a coming champion. He outpointed Nestell with the same ease shown by the celebrated young man and his trapeze, and definitely ended his career. Nestell won only one bout after meeting Pastor, and finally was suspended by the state commission.

Pastor's next effort in the west was a draw with Lop Nova, a burly Oakland, Cal., newcomer who wears the imposing but hardly noteworthy title of California champion. Although the match was called a draw some reports from San Francisco indicated the verdict was something of a home town product, like the Golden Gate bridge.

Next came Lee Ramage. Now Ramage, although battle-scarred and much the worse for wear and tear of nine years in the squared circle, still was one of the better fistic attractions, along the local kerosene circuits. Pastor tagged him late in the fourth, then beat him until the towel sailed in mid-way in the eighth round. Ramage was advised by his manager to retire.

Most recently the New Yorker smacked the last of the carefully nurtured "white hopes" back into the semi-oblivion. In less than a round this aspirant, Chuck Crowell, found himself looking up at the roof of Olympic auditorium. Yet Crowell had knocked out eight local fighters and acquitted himself creditably against Jack Roper and Gunnar Barlund.

Manager James J. Johnston, Jr., son of the Broadway promoter, came here originally because he could not keep Pastor busy in the east. He expressed evident satisfaction at finding business so good. But now he is facing the same old trouble: Pastor has defeated easily every man in the locality who could be given a fair chance against him.

LOUIS SUFFERS LOSS OF FORM

But Jim Braddock doesn't Think It Will Hurt Champion

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 8.—Ex-Champion James J. Braddock, who can speak with considerable authority on the subject, doesn't think Joe Louis' sudden loss of form will have any serious effect on his heavyweight title bout with Max Schmeling at the Yankee stadium June 22.

Braddock, from whom Joe won the title, saw Louis put on a listless exhibition in six rounds of sparring yesterday. The champion was hammered and roughed up by two of his sparring partners. But Braddock merely commented:

"You'll see a different fighter by this time next week. He's not burning up any unnecessary energy, and when he gets ready he'll open up. He worked the same way for our fight, but there's no denying he had everything when the bell rang."

UNKNOWN HOLDS CHAMP TO DRAW

Baby Arizmendi Battles Lou Ambers Even In Los Angeles Bout

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—"Baby" Arizmendi upset many an apple from the cart last night when he battled Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers in a draw in a wild 10-round non-title fight before 10,000 screaming fans at the Olympic auditorium. Ambers scored 136, Arizmendi 136½.

Today the Bellanca Baby, veteran of a thousand and one nights in a prize ring, came out flatly and predicted that Welterweight Champion Henry Armstrong would knock Ambers out when they meet in New York July 26.

Arizmendi should be an authority on the subject. Two months ago he took a beating—but never a knock-down—from Armstrong in a vicious 10-rounder.

READING, Pa.—Bobby Burns, 220, Chicago, threw Boris Demetref, 220, Boston, 23:00.

Boxing Fans Never Agree On Result Of Close Bout

BY PAT ROBINSON
NEW YORK, June 8.—Unless it ends in a knockout, a boxing bout produces more disputes than any other sport, and even if there be a knockout, half the spectators are likely to argue about its validity.

In any other game, the fans are ready to accept the official verdict but who ever heard of a fight crowd being willing to accept the decision of the referee and judges? The Giants beat the Dodgers, 7 to 4, and 50,000 baseball fans go home accepting the score as final. Some of the fans may have thought the umpire was a little off on some of the balls and strikes he called or they may have thought he missed a close decision at the plate, but even the Dodgers fans will admit that the Giants—the lucky stiff—won the game and let it go at that.

SEVERAL CLUBS ALWAYS STRONG AT ONE BERTH

Yankees are Traditionally Good at First Base; Cubs at Catcher

NEW YORK, June 8.—With baseball's "Iron Man," Lou Gehrig of the Yankees reaching his 2,000th consecutive game at first base for the New Yorkers, it is interesting to note how some teams are traditionally strong in a particular position.

Columbia Lou stepped to the plate on June 23, 1925, took a cut as pinch hitter for Paul Waninger and from that moment has played at the initial sack in every Yankee major league contest.

Gehrig has been at it for thirteen years. He stepped into the post of Wally Pipp, who had played a tang-up job at the first sack for the Yankees for many years. Lou does not regard his string as a stunt—or freak of the game. He loves baseball. Baseball is his business and he goes at it just as a bank teller goes to his cage daily.

The first base position will be handled well for the Yankees for years to come. Should Gehrig go, there is young Tommy Henrich, who is playing in the right garden for the Yanks. Tommy plays a sweet game at first base as proven by his cavorting about first in practice sessions and the Yanks have him in mind for the job.

The Chicago Cubs have been a great team through the years mainly because of Gabby Hartnett's fine catching. Catchers must know the strength and weakness of every batter in the league. For the backstop calls the pitch keeps batters from taking leads and steadies the team frequently in crises.

Gabby—he was born Charles Leo—came up from Worcester of the Eastern League to the Cubs in 1922. Baseball records give Gabby's birthdate at 1900 and he admits he's "At least 38." For year-in and year-out performance Gabby has been the backbone of the Cubs. With a lifetime batting average of .300 he is playing his seventeenth year in the majors, and all his service has been in Chicago.

Hartnett's knowledge of National League batters is second to none. His throwing arm—with the exception of the 1929 season when he was on the sidelines—has been equal to the best and his potent bat has won many a game for the Chicagoans.

Young Ken O'Dea, Hartnett's understudy, promise to keep the Cubs' catching tradition alive for many years. O'Dea is a steady hitter, has a fine arm and already has displayed ability to move in when Hartnett steps down.

That brings us to the traditional strong shortstops of the New York Giants. Dick Bartell today is considered tops among major league shortstops. Although his 1938 batting has been rather spotty, he is a good hitter, can break well to left or right to spear a hot thrower and has a very accurate throwing arm. "Rowdy Dick's" speed has produced many double plays for the Giants.

Preceding Bartell was Travis Jackson who was himself the class of the major until aging knees sent him to manage the Giants' Jersey City farm. Dave Bancroft held down that post for years and Art Fletcher, the present Giants' coach, had it for several years before Banny.

Just these few instances disclose how teams carry on with dominant strength in the same position generation after generation.

Saved by a Shirt

Three amateur mariners are shown about to abandon their frail craft, a 15-foot sloop, for the sanctuary of the liner Santa Paula, which responded to their distress signal—a shirt hung atop the mast of the small vessel. With no supplies but water and cigarettes, the three lads of Oranjestad, Aruba, an island in the Dutch Antilles, drifted for two days in the shark-infested waters off Puerto Colombia, Republic of Colombia. They were picked up fifty miles off-shore.

3,000 ARE DEAD IN BOMB RAIDS

Japanese Planes Continue
Rain of Death On Canton

change students from the United States.

(Japanese planes also raided
Fochow, about 600 miles north of Canton, today, frightening the population but only dropping leaflets urging revolt against Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.)

(Fearful of bombardment later, Americans and other foreigners are painting flags on roofs of all their buildings and are preparing air raid shelters.)

(In Shanghai, a Japanese spokesman conceded civilian casualties in the Canton bombing had been "considerable but unavoidable," in destroying Chinese military establishments.)

Alarm was increased by pamphlets from Japanese warplanes yesterday on Swatow, 170 miles northeast of Canton, warning that the war zone now was extended to south China and urging the seaport's inhabitants to flee immediately.

They warned "retreating Chinese armies would occasion bloodshed although Japanese forces are anxious to protect lives."
